Guided learning: Prewriting

Let's get your kids moving to learn!

This activity has so many important key concepts:

- Primary colors
- Left to right progression
- Connecting the body to prewriting movements

Making the Most of Routines: Clean-up

You can help your child develop a sense of self and independence by letting your child do things on their own!

This kind of independence is frequently encouraged at Rayito! Remember to make it fun, singing "Limpia, limpia"

Morning meeting.

Let's move: "Arcoiris de colores" / "Rainbow colors" - Follow directions.

1. Ask your child the name of the colors in the rainbow.
2. Ask your child to look for an item in your home that matches the color and share with the other family members.

*Consider joining your child in putting, the color items in rainbow order

Play the song to learn the colors in Spanish with your child.

Project time: The cuatro.

"The cuatro" is the national instrument of Puerto Rico.

Here's what you need:

- 1 empty box
- 1 empty paper towel roll
- 4-6 Elastic Bands of varying widths and lengths
- Scissors
- 2 sticks
- Paint, stickers, etc. to decorate

Directions:

1. Cut a nice round hole, as smoothly as possible in the center of the lid to create the hollow body of the "cuatro".
2. Stretch the elastic bands over the box so they run length wise over the hole.
3. Cut another small hole in end of the box between the elastic bands to insert the paper towel roll.
4. Slide a stick under the rubber bands at each end of the box to raise them above the hole slightly.
5. Paint and decorate and get ready for the performance.

Play "El Coquí (The Frog) - Puerto Rico" and have fun with your cuatro!

Guided learning: Teach your kids how to call 911

Teaching your child some basic emergency skills, it's essential information for kids to know.

Write numbers and letters on post-it notes to replicate the phone keypad. Place them up a wall and have your toddler practice pushing the "buttons" to call 911. Don't forget the emergency and call button.

Making the Most of Routines: Road and driveway safety

As you go about your day with your child, it's important to notice and make sense of the world around you together. This is especially true when you are walking together near roads or carparks.

- Stop, look and listen when near roads, stepping out of cars or within carparks.
- Hold hands at all times near roads, cars and carparks.
- Obey traffic lights and crossings.
- Move slowly - don't run - near carparks, roads and cars.
- Don't ride bikes or other ride-on toys on the road or around the driveway.

Morning meeting.

Let's sing and move: "Toc toc" / "Knock, knock"

Guided learning: Bicycle Safety: Draw a Bicycle Chalk Road & Create an Activity Cone Obstacle Course

This week is the perfect opportunity to teach your child to safely ride their bicycle. Teach them bicycle safety tips, such as, always wear a helmet, watch for parked cars, ride with a buddy, etc. Then get to work creating a sidewalk bicycle course on your own driveway! All you need is chalk to make this entertaining and educational activity.

Draw a simple grid pattern (like a square with a + sign in the middle) and color in the lines to resemble roads. Include stop signs at each intersection. Have your child practice riding his bicycle in a straight line.

Reflecting on the Day

Teach them the importance of using hand signals, especially around traffic - it helps drivers to know which way he is turning and can help avoid potential accidents.

Morning meeting.

Sing Together: "El semáforo" / "Traffic Light"

Tell your child you are going to teach them a song about traffic lights, but first they will make their own light. Give each child a black rectangle and a red, yellow, and green circle. Encourage your child to look at your traffic light to help them position their colors in the correct order.

Once the traffic lights are ready, sing the song "Traffic Light." As you sing, have your child point to the respective colors on their traffic light.
